

Brenda Lee

From the first inkling, it was obvious that here was a rare talent to be reckoned with. Her distinctive throaty style and rich vocal presence were gifts that Brenda Lee unwrapped at a remarkably early age. By six she was astounding listeners with a maturity of sound and interpretation of lyrics usually reserved or grown women who had gathered both time and experience.

Highlights:

- Inducted into the Georgia Music Hall of Fame 1982
- Inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame 1997
- Inducted into the Rockabilly Hall of Fame 1999
- Brenda's recording of "I'm Sorry" inducted into Grammy Hall of Fame 1999
- Inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame 2002
- Inducted into the Hit Parade Hall of Fame 2007
- Inducted into the American Pop Music Hall of Fame 2013

GRAMMY LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD
GRAMMY GOVERNORS AWARD
THE BEATLES OPENED FOR HER

Accolades & Recognition

- Charted more categories (pop, rock, easy listening, country and R&B) than any other female in the history of recorded music.
- Forth over all charted act of the entire 1960's after Elvis, The Beatles and Ray Charles.
- Ranks #9 in "Most Consecutive Top Ten Hits of All Time," male or female artists.
- Ranked #7 in Newsweek's 1977 compilation of Top 20 Artists of the past 20 years."
- November 2, 1964, performed a "Royal Command Performance, in London before Queen Elizabeth II of England.
- October 30, 1987 officially proclaimed "Brenda Lee Day," in her native Lithonia, Georgia
- On September 6, 1984, Brenda became only the fourth recipient of the prestigious "Governors Award," by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (NARAS). It was proclaimed "Brenda Lee Day" by both the mayor of Nashville and Governor Lamar Alexander of Tennessee.
- In October of 1994, Brenda Lee headlined a sell-out concert at the historic 'Royal Albert Hall' in London – a performance that marked the crowning jewel of a month long European concert series.
- Biography "Little Miss Dynamite – The Life And Times of Brenda Lee" published 2002
- Released Dove nominated gospel duets album "With Treasured Friends" 2007
- In 1990 the American Rose Society named a miniature rose for Brenda Lee. It is yellow with pink to red edges, depending on the amount of sun it receives. In the words of the Rose Society, it is described as, "A little beauty that is exceptionally hearty, smaller than other miniature roses, and an All-Round Winner!" Obviously a perfect tribute to its namesake.

Webster Public Relations
615-77-6995 - websterpr.com

Kirt Webster, kirt@websterpr.com
Scott Adkins, scott@websterpr.com
Megan Gill, mgill@websterpr.com

For Television bookings:
Jeremy Westby, jeremy@websterpr.com

